

Not only are the services provided by XM incredibly valuable to its clients, but it is a paid service. The people who pay this service deserve the best radio coverage available. XM is educational, informational, and entertaining. I consider it to be a big part of my daily life and a big help in my professional life. Stepping on the rights of paid radio would be an act against the Constitution of the United States,